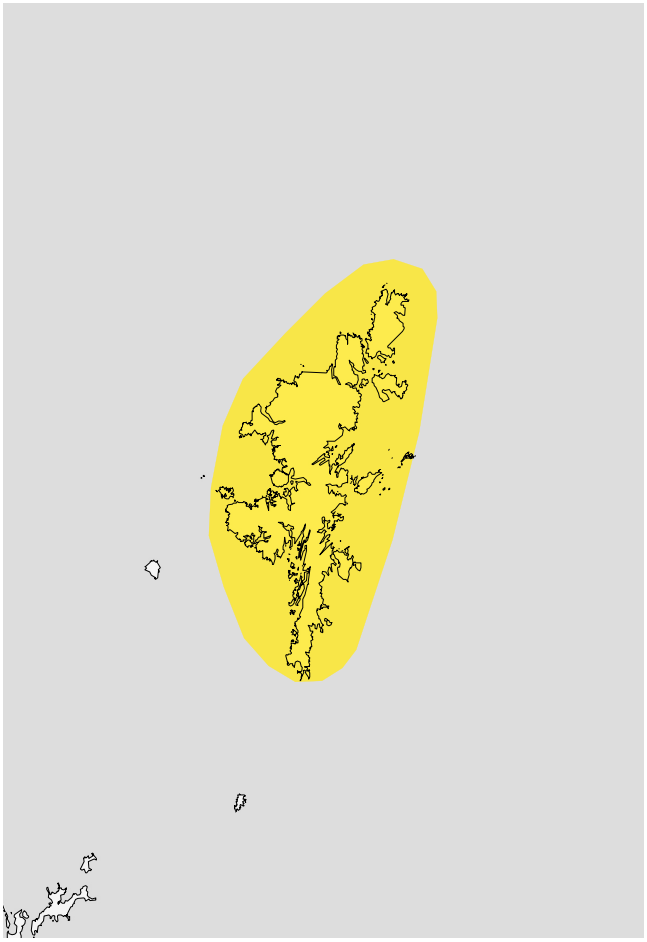
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
00:00 Mon 12 Dec 2022 and
23:59 Mon 12 Dec 2022



Wintry showers are likely to lead to difficult travel conditions.

What to expect

- There is a chance of travel delays on roads with some stranded vehicles and passengers, along with delayed or cancelled air travel
- There is a slight chance that some communities could become cut off
- There is a small chance that power cuts will occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected
- A small chance of injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- A small chance that untreated pavements and cycle paths become impassable

Further details

There is the potential for frequent wintry showers to affect Shetland through this period. Snow accumulations of 2-5 cm are possible in places, with a chance of 10-20 cm in some locations, especially on high ground. Icy surfaces may become a hazard, especially where showers fall as rain.

Reason for update

Warning end time brought forward to midnight to reflect quicker clearance of more persistent precipitation. Another warning follows from the expiry of this warning.
